#WEATHER

Ever wondered what the difference between a hurricane, cyclone and typhoon is? Or what a 'front' is? Or asked how weather warnings are issued? Maybe you've even spoken about the weather today, after all it's the most popular topic of conversation, yet not many of us actually know how it works.

On this course you'll explore all things weather, learning about the basic processes that result in the weather that we experience and how the weather affects people like photographers, gardeners and walkers.
